Christmas Bingo

Family edition

A free Hay-List printable · 10 cards · ages 5 and up

Six farm influencers. One Christmas. Somebody already ate a gingerbread leg.

How to play

1. Print one card per player. There are 10 different cards, so nobody has the same one.
2. Keep your card with you on Christmas Day, or at any festive get-together.
3. Tick a square when you see or hear what it says. The middle square is free.
4. Five in a row wins: across, down or corner to corner. Shout BINGO.
5. Want a longer game? Play for a full card.

Colonel Cluckson keeps the score. Dottie guards the cookies and loses. Turbo has already run indoors twice. Solomon will finish his walk by New Year.

All 30 squares (every card has 24 of them)

- Someone wears a Christmas jumper
- A carol gets sung out of tune
- Wrapping paper on the floor
- Someone says “just one more cookie”
- A candy cane
- Somebody shakes a present
- A snowman, real or drawn
- Someone falls asleep on the sofa
- A star on top of the tree
- Hot chocolate with marshmallows
- An ornament falls off the tree
- Someone asks “is it time yet?”
- A reindeer
- A gift bag gets reused
- Somebody wears a paper crown
- Batteries not included
- A gingerbread person loses a leg
- Someone takes a family photo
- Tangled fairy lights
- A pet under the tree
- Mittens or a scarf
- A “thank you” without a reminder
- A Christmas film is on
- Someone sneaks a taste in the kitchen
- A bell rings
- A toy gets built before the instructions get read
- Snow, or someone wishing for snow
- A very slow walk after dinner
- Somebody runs indoors
- Everyone lines up for a photo
